

CROWN LAMB

Jacqui Newling

This is a call to all Australians who want to move towards Australia being a republic to challenge Sam Kekovich and his VOTE LAMB on Australia Day campaign.

On this one day at least, surely an Australian meat should be on the menu?

If Australia Day is set aside to celebrate British occupation of this country, let lamb reign supreme.

But if it is to celebrate Australia as the country we take pride in, what better meat to serve than downright Australian kangaroo?
